THIRD YEAR OF ELKS

LOCAL LODGE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY WITH MIRTH AND GOOD-FELLOWSHIP

Enthusiasm and good-fellowship prevailed at the excellent entertainment provided by Lodge 1289, Order of Elks, Thursday night in the local lodge rooms. The occasion was the third anniversary of the founding of the lodge in Glendale. There was a large attendance, about 250 being present. A number of Elks from the Universal Film company added to the variety of the entertainment.

Mr. Stephen C. Packer, Exalted Ruler, presided and after opening the meeting handed the charge of the evening's entertainment to Dr. H. G. Martin, in his capacity as toastmaster. Mr. M. F. Shannon, past exalted ruler of No. 99, Los Angeles, gave the address of the evening. He spoke of the remarkable progress that had been made by Lodge 1289, and foretold for it a much greater growth in the future. Replying to Mr. Shannon, Dr. Martin thanked him for the kind things he had said of the lodge and opened the entertainment of the evening, calling for the program.

Under the supervision of Mr. E. Wolbach, an excellent program had been prepared. Earl Hauk, the blind baritone, sang several pleasing numbers. Mr. Max Asher of the Universal Film company gave a most amusing exhibition of the magician's art. Rube Ward of Glendale entertained the company with some clever cartoons and a monologue. The Glendale quartet sang with their usual smoothness and dramatic force.

Another magician from the Universal company gave a highly original act, in the course of which he performed some very bewildering tricks. Miss Lake, a member of the same film company who very graciously consented to come over to the meeting with Mr. Max Asher was greeted with much enthusiastic applause for her wonderful dramatic singing. Miss Lake is known as the "Lady Elk," having been duly initiated into the mysteries of the Order. She wears the badge and carries the card of the Elks.

At the close of the performance the meeting adjourned to refreshment. A substantial turkey supper had been provided and goodwill and merriment pervaded the remainder of the proceedings which lasted almost until midnight.

OUR CONGRESSMAN SAYS LOS ANGELES COUNTY SHOULD HAVE MORE GOOD ROADS

Before a large audience in the main exhibit room of the Antelope Valley fair, Congressman Charles H. Randall urged his hearers to support the bonds for additional highways in this county. He said in part:

"Just a little figuring with pencil and paper will convince any voter that Los Angeles county needs more good roads. It is amazing but true that our 500 miles of paved roads would only provide liberal parking space for the 50,000 automobiles of this county. To be specific, there is just room on these highways for one machine to every fifty lineal feet of roadway. This accounts for the great number of accidents, for the roads are congested and rendered hazardous for even the most experienced driver. This condition will grow rapidly worse, for new autos of the bus, truck, jitney, pleasure and private classes are being added at a rate of more than a thousand a month. The auto bus business alone is to see a most remarkable development over the county and state boulevards. I am informed that nearly fifty of these now run daily between Los Angeles and Pomona and intermediate towns. It is easy to see that positive dangers confront us simply through the lack of good road mileage.

"Take the comparative investment in good roads and in automobiles in this county, for illustration. Conservatively speaking, it is reasonable to say that the county's investment in paved highways ought to equal the investment in vehicles which use those roads. Yet we have only five million dollars invested in good roads while our citizens have fifty million dollars invested in automobiles. The discrepancy is not at all creditable to the richest county west of Cook county, Illinois.

"Our perspective of things is too much contracted in this county. Here we have an assessed valuation of eight hundred millions of dollars. We have not a mile of paved highway in the beautiful mountain sections of

ON OPENING DAY

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT SAYS THE CLUB IS A VEHICLE OF PROGRESS AND USEFULNESS

Father Time is a pastmaster in the art of changes so it is not surprising that since the beginning of time there has been in most lines much change and great progress. Take for example the subject of transportation,—at first burdens were carried by means of man's physical power, afterwards beasts were harnessed and trained to do his work. The slow ox team, the lumbering farm wagon, the coach of other days with its Concord springs, the comfortable carriage, the luxurious automobile and the flying machine all speak in powerful tones of the march of progress.

It is a "far cry" from the patient ox team to the wonderful aeroplane, but not much farther than the changes which have marked the life of woman during the same period.

Doubtless your grandmother and mine spent their time spinning, knitting, dyeing, weaving and attending to her many housekeeping duties and for recreation visited her friends occasionally, attended a quilting, a barn raising, a husking bee and the like. As times changed machinery was invented which did much of this work outside the home, in factories and workshops, and the women of the household had time to turn their attention to other things, many obtaining a higher education along various lines, and now we are studying such subjects as immigration, housing conditions, milk stations for the babies of the poor, laws pertaining to women and children and bills pending in the legislature. Working alone we could do little, but co-operating with each other in district and state federations, our desires and resolutions carry weight and we are a force to be reckoned with. Thus we can do for each other through our clubs what we could not possibly do outside them as private individuals.

There are few women in this day and age who are not interested in some line of club work. We all feel the benefit of working with others, the inspiration and uplift of "team work" and the educational advantages to be derived from many of our Club programs.

Our sharp corners are rubbed down a little from contact with others and in many ways we derive benefit.

Now that we are not in the class with criminals, imbeciles and Indians but are really full fledged citizens, we owe it to ourselves and to our country to be interested in the best things, to develop ourselves in all good ways and so be more useful at home and abroad.

The home with its many duties must always come first with us; afterward the time for outside recreation and improvement.

Many clubs show a majority of women who are no longer young, whose families are grown and perhaps are in homes of their own, or whose children do not longer demand the personal attention of the mother. These women feel the need of again being in touch with the world and keeping up with the times, and what better way is there to do it than by being an active member of some progressive club? Since we have the section plan of work carried out in many clubs, the members have opportunity to study along lines in which they are especially interested. Those who are fond of music join the music section; those interested in books and discussion favor the literary section; those who wish to study art or civics identify themselves with those who are pursuing those lines of work, thereby gaining inspiration themselves and giving it to others.

Since the first clubs were formed there has been a steady increase in numbers, in subjects studied, in variety of sections, in clubs joining the district, state and general federations, showing the awakening to the need of co-operation and the desire to profit by the opportunities within our grasp.

I doubt if any of the founders of the Tuesday Afternoon club dreamed the organization they were forming would ever attain the size which it now boasts, with its varied interests. Our membership list now has 225 names and we have eight study sections doing excellent work. We hope in the future to live up to the high ideals we have had in the past and whenever possible to advance along all lines.

We have still before us the vision of a club home where we will have all the comforts and conveniences necessary to the highest success of the Club. It grows nearer year by year

BUILDING IS BRISK

B. L. CLINE THINKS THERE ARE INDICATIONS OF AN ACTIVE WINTER IN GLENDALE

"While I have always acted on the principle of getting my work first and talking about it after it has been done," said Mr. B. L. Cline, contractor and builder, 420 W. Ninth St. to a representative of the Glendale Evening News, "I don't mind saying, at the present juncture that there is promise of an active winter in Glendale in the building trade. I have just secured contracts that will keep me busy for some time and I have prospects of more. Other contractors in Glendale have similar experiences to narrate.

"It is now nearly two and a half years since I came to Glendale and I have never, from the very first moment I entered this attractive city, had any cause to regret my choice of residence. During that period I have built fourteen houses. That is not a bad record. It would be a fair record even in good times. It is also an indication that Glendale and its vicinity have not suffered so much as some other districts on account of the hard times.

"There is quite a movement in property of all times in Glendale at present and that, too, is an indication that a change is taking place in conditions. Just in my own neighborhood here no fewer than three houses have been sold within the past month and other deals have been made.

"As far as my own work is concerned I can state that at the present time I am completing a 4-room cottage on Orange Grove avenue, near Everett for Mr. S. Baker of Tropic.

"Tomorrow I start to build an apartment house for Mrs. Teigh of will consist of two 4-room apartments Los Angeles on Franklin Court. This finished in the very best modern style with all the up-to-date built-in features. These apartments will be rented immediately. They will be very cosy and desirable for the winter. I drew the plans for the building myself and am quite pleased with my success.

"Besides this work in Glendale I am now remodeling one house on Avenue 19, Los Angeles, and building another, a 5-room, modern residence for Mrs. True. These two houses when completed will be as desirable residences as any in their neighborhood.

"Under these circumstances it can be seen that I am not exaggerating when I state it as my opinion that the business situation is improving and that Glendale is feeling an early impulse of the coming wave of good times."

PARLIAMENTARY LAW CLASS

The Parliamentary law class of the Tuesday Afternoon club held its first lesson and drill for the new year at Masonic Temple, Tuesday, at 1.30 p. m. The lesson on objection to consideration of the question and substitute motions was given by Mrs. P. S. McNutt. In the drill Mrs. Luther Brown acted as presiding officer, stating and putting the questions with accuracy and dispatch. Miss Button offered a resolution and with the assistance of Mrs. J. R. White, Jr. and others argued eloquently for its adoption. But Mrs. Helen I. Campbell offered a substitute motion which she presented so favorably that it was adopted. The next lesson on organizing a permanent society was outlined. Much interest and enthusiasm were shown throughout the meeting and a large number of ladies availed themselves of this splendid lesson. Mrs. McNutt has been chosen assistant parliamentarian of the Los Angeles district of women's clubs. Under her efficient leadership this section promises to be one of the strongest parliamentary sections in the state.

The next meeting will be held at 1.30 at Masonic Temple just preceding the next meeting of the club. All club members are invited to attend.

RAILROAD COMMISSION MEETS

On Friday, November 5, at 10 a. m., in the Tropic City hall, the State Railroad commission, Mr. Gordon presiding will conduct a hearing in reference to the Southern Pacific Railroad company granting a permit to install a lawful crossing in Tropic where the Los Feliz road now crosses the Southern Pacific tracks. The securing of a legal crossing at this point is one of the steps necessary to be taken in the extension of Brand Boulevard to Los Angeles. It is expected that members of the Glendale, Los Angeles Brand Boulevard Extension committee and all others interested in the proposed boulevard will be present at this hearing.

GLIMPSE OF THE PAST

INTERESTING FACTS FROM A GLENDALE PAPER OF TWENTY YEARS AGO

Twenty years ago a little newspaper was published in Glendale. It was more of an advertising sheet for a grocery store than a real newspaper yet it contrived to set forth many items of interest to the inhabitants of the district at that time. This paper was called the "Suburban Visitor." It was published by T. W. Jones who ran a grocery store in Glendale.

The Suburban Visitor, considering the object with which it was published showed a laudable sense of what was due to business. Mr. Jones was probably ahead of his time in advertising in this manner and deserved the success which perhaps did not attend him in as full measure as he had expected, for it is known that he moved out of Glendale to a larger sphere of activity; or it may be that he did profit by his advertising and was enabled to seek larger fields.

Out of this past period comes the echo of the ever present water question. It is learned from this old sheet that the Verdugo Canyon Water Company, in the year 1895 was constructing extensive works for intercepting and handling the underflow of the canyon. They had laid 600 feet of 24-inch pipe to carry the overflow of the submerged dam to the main division box. Even at that time the city was calling special meetings for considering the water question.

It is interesting to not that Black Diamond coal cost at that period, 60 cents a sack and that 5 cents was allowed for the sack. Mrs. Woodberry chairman of the social committee of the Y. P. S. C. E. was planning an oratorical contest. L. C. Wardell was tending his crop of strawberries for Christmas. The date of the paper is November 19, 1895.

Looking at the prices which prevailed at that period we find that lard was 3 pounds for 30 cents; coffee 40 cents a pound; 5 gallons of coal oil cost 90 cents; 5 gallons of gasoline cost 95 cents. A 50 lb. sack of flour was 80 cents. Seven pounds of white beans cost 25 cents. English breakfast tea was 60 cents a pound and Japan tea 35 to 40 cents. As far as prices go twenty years have not made so very much difference.

Mr. Jones was quite a critic of his times. He notes that women's sleeves were growing bigger. He had quite a news sense as indicated by his personal notes of births and house-building. He was also somewhat of a philosopher filling out one of his small pages with the sage reflection that, "No man can have joy today who is worrying about tomorrow."

In the matter of everyday advice on the gospel of work he was as far advanced as Walt Mason for he gave his customers the up-to-date rhyming version of the modern gospel: "Don't wait until the iron's hot But make it hot by muscle; Don't wait for wealth your father's got;

Take off your coat and hustle.

For local humor he tells of how a lady said to a tramp whom she met on the Southern Pacific track, as she gave him 10 cents. "I hope I'm not encouraging you to drink." "Oh," said the tramp, "I don't need any encouragement." For its size, 7x5 inches, this little sheet contained the essence of a first-class newspaper.

Before its publication there was one other paper in the town but that had died a natural death. It is easy to measure the past by the present and sometimes useful to measure the present by the past. There has been growth and progress here that is measurable and gratifying.

LECTURE ON ITALY

By means of the marvelous set of stereopticon slides to be thrown upon the screen, Saturday night those who are fortunate enough to hear Prof. Raymond will travel for an hour and a half through historic Rome and study the military, legal, artistic and religious traditions of ancient and modern Italy.

Through the Pincian garden, the restored Cloaca Maxima, the Forum, the Castle of St. Angelo, the Coliseum, the Triumphal arches of Severus, Titus and Constantine.

They will review the socializing of private and ecclesiastical possessions, the churches and palaces, St. Peters and the Vatican. They will gaze upon the priceless art treasures and libraries of the Vatican open to all; the palaces or meeting places of the National Senate and Chamber of Deputies.

This is an opportunity never before presented to the people of Glendale and judging from the sale of tickets they are appreciating it.

SOME PROSPECTS FOR SUGAR GROWERS

For many years past Germany and Austria have sold annually to Great Britain more than 1,500,000 tons of sugar. This market is now shut off by the war and it is doubtful if it will be available even after hostilities have ceased. Britain has learned from the experiences of the past year the great national value of growing her sugar supply on her own soil. She is now giving serious consideration to the problem of encouraging the growing of beets in England and of developing the once highly productive cane plantations of her colonies.

Already the planters of the West Indies are lifting up their heads and looking forward to a time of profit when by means of prohibitive duties Great Britain will build up once more the life of the sugar planters of Jamaica and the West Indies. It is practically certain that Britain will not be inclined to purchase sugar from her bitter opponents in Germany and Austria. German and Austrian sugar will therefore be likely to seek the American market. These sugars will be fed with bounties and will have an enormous advantage in competing with the American article.

Had it not been for the war in Europe the United States might have been protected in some degree from the unregulated competition of bounty-fed sugars by the operation of the Brussels conference. In view of what has happened and may happen it is useless to speak of that conference in connection with international relations in commerce. The United States was not a member of that great international trust which in the past has regulated the sugar business in Europe but the conference regarded the United States as convention territory. All the regulations made by the conference against dumping and for minimizing the exportation of, bounty-fed sugars applied to the American market.

As the Brussels convention came to a close with the opening of the war it is inconceivable that it will be renewed at the conclusion of the struggle. Therefore no bar will exist to prevent European countries from entering the American market and dumping their stocks here without restrictions as to amounts or prices. In the economic stress under which those countries will find themselves at the declaration of peace, it is extremely likely that this course will be followed.

This is a serious matter for American sugar growers. It will be very difficult for the American beet sugar producer of California to stand up against this form of competition. California has already suffered severe enough blows to her industries. It would almost look as though an attempt were being made to strangle the state. The lemon industry is hard hit, and so is the olive industry and others. Should the beet-sugar industry in like manner go by the board it will amount almost to a state calamity.

Already in expectation of the throwing into the American market of vast quantities of cheap foreign sugar permitted under the present tariff regulations to come in for free competition with the American product the sugar industry of California and other parts of the United States is being restrained. Europe has accumulated large stocks of sugar and will be eager to rid itself of it even by further cuts in price. Where the American and the Californian who grows sugar is to get off can easily be seen.

PROSPECTS FOR AMERICAN LABOR

There is no doubt that a reasonable distribution of labor throughout the markets of the continent would do much to lighten the condition of those who work and those who employ workers. If the mountain will not come to Mohammed Mohammed must go to the mountain. That is what the laborers of the United States are learning these days. There is at different seasons a demand for labor in various parts of the Pacific coast and the northwest of Canada that needs to be satisfied with white labor. In Canada in particular there is a growing demand for laborers in the agricultural districts. The draft of young men for the European war has been made in great degree on the agricultural population of Western Canada.

To supply this demand a number of laborers from the congested markets of the United States could easily be spared; but it seems that they prefer to stay here in idleness. Some idea has got into the heads of numbers of these people that Canada is a land of perpetual snow. One would think that the fact that wheat is grown there so largely would enlighten the minds of those who are in need of work but don't want to go where it is to be found; but it is not so. They persist in their mistaken beliefs and drift toward the warmer regions of Southern California, where the labor market is somewhat congested, to say the least.

It is true, as has been pointed out in these columns, that many Americans are emigrating to Canada yearly; but those Americans are men of means, men able to buy property, men who take up large tracts of land and employ labor themselves. That is not a solution of the labor question in the Canadian fields. It is rather an aggravation of the conditions prevailing there.

It seems a pity that some equalization of the labor supply could not be accomplished. When the war in Europe is over the already congested centers of the eastern states will be much worse. The population of Europe will flee from the devastated fields and will seek the comparative ease of the new world. Their advent here will make matters very much worse than they are now. This influx of eager workers will pour like a flood into the land and will create a much greater difficulty than that of a shortage of laborers. Doubtless measures will be taken to regulate this threatening danger. Even now something is being done in that direction. Canada will be subjected to a similar invasion and as there are more stringent laws regulating immigration in that country many of those who attempt to get in there will be smuggled over the border into the United States, when rejected; or will meander over the line once they have obtained a foothold in Canada.

In any case this is a real peril and both Canada and this country should take up jointly the equalization of the labor supply as it now stands and ultimately should work in unison for the regulation of the approaching wave of European immigration. Europe will not be a very desirable place in which to live. German workers and British and French workers also will have to give probably one-half of what they earn to pay the war debt. It will be the endeavor of many of them to escape that burden. The younger generation, too, will seek to escape and it remains for both the United States and Canada to say if they want to shoulder this burden.

There are men of many ways and manners in this world. No one man need expect to always have his own way. Every man must consider the rights of his fellowman if he would retain the qualifications of a good citizen.

this county. San Bernardino county with only sixty-seven million dollars' assessed valuation has more than a hundred miles of perfect roads in the San Bernardino mountains. With less than one-tenth of our wealth that county has provided the famous "100-mile Rim of the World" drive. We have scenery equal to any in the South in our Sierra Nevada range, yet we leave it in an inaccessible condition for our millions of people and our thousands of tourists.

"The magnificent highways of Switzerland—a country less than double the area of Los Angeles county alone—have served as a principal magnet to draw two hundred and seventy-five million dollars of American tourist money to Europe annually. We have a dozen Switzerlands in the mountains of California. Why not provide driveways through them and make this in truth the playground of the world?"

"The provision for road bonds to be voted on October 26 ought to be adopted from the standpoint of safety alone, to say nothing about progress and development of which we so proudly boast. The amount provided is a mere bagatelle when compared to our great wealth."

CHANGE OF CONCERT DATE

On account of its conflicting with the Saturday evening lectures given under the auspices of the Federation of Parent Teacher associations, on the evening of October 23, Mr. Julius Kranz has decided to change the date of his concert to Friday evening, October 29. The concert will be given by the pupils of Mr. Kranz and of Miss Melicent Virden, in the Masonic Temple on that date.

PERSONALS

Rev. Dr. Mills, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church returned Thursday from a week's visit to San Francisco and the exposition.

The Koverman family who have been living at 809 Lomita avenue for some time past have removed permanently to Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Weaver of 201 South Kenwood street returned last night from an enjoyable week spent at the San Francisco exposition.

Mrs. Priestly Hall of Riverside and Miss Kate Overton of Arch Beach were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stone of Chestnut street, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Machesney and Mrs. Frank Mechling of Greensburg, Pa., who are visiting in Los Angeles paid a visit also to Glendale Thursday. They have many friends in this city.

Mrs. Geierman and Mrs. Pepper, former residents of Glendale, now of Los Angeles, were in Glendale on Thursday visiting some of their numerous friends.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, 245 S. Kenwood, their daughter, Miss Inez Harrison, and Miss Gertrude Wilson made a pleasant auto trip to Sierra Madre canyon, Wednesday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lennox.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis and Miss Katherine Lewis have gone to Nogales, Arizona, for a stay of several months. Mr. Lewis is at present in Nogales engaged in business. Mrs. Lewis has rented her Kenwood street home for the period of her residence in Arizona.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern of the Lutheran church returned home, Thursday afternoon, after a vacation of ten days in the north. Mr. and Mrs. Mottern were delegates to the Lutheran Synodical convention at Mt. Hermon near Santa Cruz. They visited the exposition at San Francisco on three separate days before the synod.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miles of Chicago are now in San Francisco on their way to visit Mrs. A. T. Tuttle of 871 Damasco Court, who is a sister of Mrs. Miles. Their two sons, one of them a well known motion picture actor, the other formerly with one of Chicago's leading newspapers, have been in Southern California for some little time. Mr. Miles is one of Chicago's prominent artists and it is quite likely that he may decide to open a studio in Glendale.

Mrs. Edith Elrod, 508 Orange St., is seriously ill at her home. Mrs. Elrod came to California a little more than a year ago. During that time she has been practically an invalid. Mr. Elrod is in the east where his position entails him and Mrs. Elrod is burdened with the care of her three little children. Notwithstanding these drawbacks she has been helpful to others in their time of trouble and her friends wish her a speedy recovery and the joy and happiness which she deserves.

Miss Bessie M. Field, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Field of 239 S. Kenwood street who recently went to Hook's ranch, New Mexico, to benefit by the bracing climate there, writes that she is enjoying her vacation in great style. The other day she and her host and hostess drove into Albuquerque, a distance of 147 miles, to see the four days' fair. They were glad to get back to the beautiful scenery of the mountains. Hook's ranch is situated at an altitude of 6500 feet.

Mrs. Wier of Ewart, Mich., an old friend of Mrs. W. H. Althouse, 347 N. Isabel street, was a visitor at the Althouse residence Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Fanset of the Fanset Dye Works, 1111 W. Broadway, who has been in San Francisco during the past week, returned Thursday, after a pleasant time spent among friends and at the Exposition.

Mrs. William Nichols and daughters of the Monte Vista apartments entertained at dinner Mr. W. H. Baldridge of Escondido, Judge R. E. Cable of Kansas City and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Cable of Los Angeles, all relatives of Mrs. Nichols.

Mrs. Field, 239 S. Kenwood street, entertained at luncheon Wednesday, Mrs. Smith of Highland Park, Mrs. Frank Adams and Miss Pearly Adams. The dining room was tastefully decorated in pink and green. Music and work passed away the time after luncheon.

CLOSES $25,000 DEAL

One of the largest deals handled in this section for some time past was yesterday closed by H. L. Miller Co. of 409 S. Brand Blvd., this city. The local firm handled both sides of the deal. In the exchange Mr. F. D. Moon of Los Angeles gave up the following properties to Mr. C. W. Roberts of Fort Worth, Texas: Three 3-story business buildings in Baltimore, 7000 acres of coal and oil lands in Kentucky, 160 acres of timber land in Arkansas, 100 acre finely improved farm in Wisconsin and a small property in Benton Harbor, Mich. for which he received from Mr. Roberts a portion of his Texas estate amounting to two leagues, or 8856 acres of land.

Mr. Moon is making preparations to go to his recently acquired ranch and enter into stock raising. He already has a similar property in the San Joaquin valley of this state.

While the actual value of the properties in the exchange are not being made public we understand it to be in excess of $250,000.

NORTH GLENDAL E

Under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church, a Bible study class has been arranged, the leader of the class being Miss Maude Soper of 1305 N. Maryland avenue and the subject for study being St. Paul, the Campaigner of Christ or the life of St. Paul. The class meets every Thursday night at the leader's home and all who are interested in Bible study are cordially invited.

Miss Lucille Pittman of 1001 N. Pacific avenue will spend the week end in Pasadena as the house guest of Miss Lucia Bettannier. Saturday afternoon Miss Bettannier and her guest will attend the orpheum to see Valeska Suratt who is playing there this week.

Mrs. J. B. Bardsley of Sixth St., West Glendale entertained as her house guest during the past week, Mrs. Thomas Smith of Hemet, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Marble and daughter, Miss Charlotte of 1428 W. 27th Place, Los Angeles were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Rockhold of 1430 Burchett street very recently.

Mrs. William Sunkes of North Central avenue spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. F. A. Van Decar of 1537 Ivy street, Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West of 1333 Valley View Road entertained as their guests for the day last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Egan from Los Angeles.

TROPICO

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprowl Morgan of Acacia street have had as their house guests Miss Bertha Krehbiel and her sister, Miss Marie Krehbiel of Cincinnati. These young ladies who are nieces of Mrs. Morgan are enjoying an extended tour of the West under the chaperonage of Miss May Josselyn. One of the delightful affairs planned for these eastern guests was a dinner given by their host and hostess on Sunday evening, when besides the guests of honor, covers were laid for Rev. and Mrs. Karl Kuhnle, Miss Helen Kuhnle and Mr. Wesley Kuhnle of Hollywood.

After an absence of several months in the east and in "doing the fairs," Dr. and Mrs. P. O. Lucas and children are again established in their Tropico home, much to the pleasure of their many friends.

At the annual election of officers for the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Tropico Methodist church, the offices were filled as follows: Pres., Mrs. Mary M. Cole; Vice Pres. Mrs. Valeria Kopp; Rec. Sec., Mrs. E. B. Moore; Cor. Sec., Miss Elsie Anderson; Mite Box Sec., Mrs. A. M. Phillips; Treasurer, Mrs. J. A. McAdams; Chairman of Program Com., Miss Elsie Anderson.

The announcement of "Carnival Belles" at the Presbyterian church on Friday evening has put us all on the tip-toe of expectancy. The very name of the affair has an alluring sound and the public is assured of something interesting and worth while. "The Daughters of Ruth" composed of Mrs. Klee's Sunday school class are giving this entertainment for the benefit of the Sunday school and deserve enthusiastic support in their efforts in so worthy a cause. Mrs. Wayland Brown is an additional drawing card for the occasion as she is most generously giving her services to aid the class in making a success of the evening.

"The holiday spirit" is already abroad as was evidenced today by the enthusiastic suggestions and plans made by the Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church for their annual Christmas sale. The day was profitably spent, shaping plans for the sale and a pleasant social hour enjoyed as the noon luncheon was served.

Mrs. M. M. Cole who has been confined to her home for several weeks as the victim of la grippe is quite recovered and is able again to take up her duties both socially and in her church work.

Dr. Robert McGraw of Los Angeles and Dr. Samuel A. Pollock of West Park avenue left in the former's touring car for Calabasas where they will spend a week camping and hunting.

The Mothers' club of the Acacia street school district held a very interesting meeting Friday afternoon, Mrs. R. S. Todd, president, presiding.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The subject to be discussed at the Christian church tonight by Evangelist B. C. Hagerman is "The Parable of the Prodigal Son." The audiences and the interest is increasing from night to night and a great inspirational service is being planned for this evening. The young people and the children are especially invited. All are enjoying the music.

LITERARY SECTION

It is expected that there will be a large attendance of the ladies of the Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Tuesday, October 19. On that day the section will meet at the home of Mrs. Dougherty, 505 S. Central avenue.

Mr. Joseph Ewing Passes Away

Mr. Joseph Ewing who was born seventy-eight years ago near Nashville, Tenn., passed away last Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock at his home on Los Angeles street. He was ill but a few days. His death came as a surprise to his friends. He leaves a widow and two sons and two step-daughters and one step-son. Five daughters by a former marriage preceded him in death. His wife and one step-daughter and husband were with him at the last and ministered to him with loving care.

To one who was present during his illness, the step-daughter remarked several times, "Oh, he is such a good man"—a tribute all step-parents do not receive. The burial took place at Tropic last Saturday.

ON OPENING DAY

and some day our hopes will be realized.

Some one has said that women are more restless just now than at any other time in the history of the world. Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, says, "Really they are not a bit more restless, they are simply more vocal, they are coming to the surface, they are exposing themselves. They have dropped their old policy of repression and are talking, they say what they think and what they want. There is more self analysis. I think there is going to come out of all this shifting of relations the greater self-development of women and in turn the development of others whose lives these freer women will touch. I go so far as to say it will accelerate the progress of the world." She adds, "The more vigorous minded young women of today with larger interests occupying their thought and attention are I believe, better than the girls of the past whose daylight hours were mostly devoted to embroidery. The only way to my mind to make a woman bigger and broader is to put bigger and broader subjects in her mind." In our club work we are surely occupied with many bigger and broader subjects and so shall hope to develop our minds and hearts. I recently read these few lines about a prominent man of Chicago, Mr. Ayer. "He dwells on adding to the enjoyment of others. He has come to feel in fact what great men discover early in life and nearly all men suspect some time in life, that helping others, helping one's community, is all that ultimately is worth while."

Many of us know a little of what has been accomplished by Coleman House of Los Angeles for the poor foreigners of the city. We know also of the Maternity cottage work, the Day Nursery for well babies, Rest Haven, Venice Vacation Home and others all conducted by clubs or club women and all nobly helping individuals and communities to better lives and higher citizenship. Women have always alleviated pain and distress wherever possible. It is their nature to do so, first for their own, then for others and now through our clubs we are enabled to help the poor and the needy who otherwise would not be reached.

Our own club has for years regularly sent fruit and clothing to several institutions in the city, our own music section has brightened the holiday time for the sick in hospitals, where as individuals they would not have gone. Our local Charities committee has been more helpful here at home than many of us realize.

Many young women are assisted through the Scholarship fund of the Federation, to obtain an education, and by our contributions to that worthy cause we help, through the club where our individual contributions would amount to very little, if ever given.

In 33 state federations in 1914, $78,665 was collected for the Scholarships and Students' Loan funds, the number of students helped varying from one in some states to 89 in Colorado which was the pioneer in this good work.

Our town library as we all know is the child of our club and many clubs have various offspring of whom they may well be proud.

Let us strive to continue this helpful spirit and lend a hand wherever we find opportunity.

The Board is much gratified that arrangements have been perfected to present a lecture and entertainment course, free not only to club members but to the general public and we hope and expect that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the talented speakers who will come before us.

We have asked many favors of the public at different times and in this way we can say "thank you" for some of them.

Our competent chairman of program has spent much time and thought in preparation of the programs for the year and I feel confident we shall from meeting to meeting appreciate the results of her labors as we listen to such gifted men as Dr. Fox, Mr. Scovell, Mr. John McGroarty and others. Arrangements have also been made for five musical days and programs by some of our own talented members.

No president nor Board of Directors can make a successful club alone, so we count on co-operation from each and every member. It is your club and we know that you will support it and the officers you have chosen.

In a club the size of ours there must always be two sides to most questions. The majority rules but we hope the minority will work just the same and on the next question be more fortunate.

I feel sure that you will all be greatly pleased to know that of the 134 clubs in the Los Angeles district, there are only twelve which have a larger membership than ours.

We also boast three members on the District board, the chairman of Political Science, the chairman of Civics and the newly appointed assistant chairman of Parliamentary Usage.

With all the splendid material we have to work with the year should bring advancement and success, harmony and a greater spirit of co-operation. Let us strive for these ends.

"In the elder days of art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseem part—
For the gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen,
Make the house where God may dwell,
Beautiful, entire and clean.

Build today then strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

CITY WITHOUT A CHILD

A city without a single child is Pont-a-Mousson. Ordinarily 13,000 souls abide within her borders. Repeated bombardments, the 135th has just been recorded, have made it necessary to remove the babies.

One of the strangest cities of France, Pont-a-Mousson sits astride the Moselle in the shadow of the odd, solitary mountain peak which juts from the rolling country of Lorraine. The peak is called Mousson and in the old days when the village at its base sprang up by the Moselle and a bridge was thrown across the stream to connect the settlement with Mousson upon whose crest a castle reared its towers, the place was nameless save for reference to it as the "pont-a-Mousson" (the bridge to Mousson). So it is called to this day.

Pont-a-Mousson holds a record for bombardments since this war began. The German lines run east and west past its northern limits crossing the Moselle and curving around the base of Mousson from the top of which, through telescopes, Metz, which Bazaine traitorously gave to Germany in 1870 can be seen.

The bridge is barricaded on the north because the Germans otherwise could see every person who crossed.

Heroism is as common as the red tiled roof and all the roofs are red. The mayor, a white haired old man volunteered, hoping to march triumphantly into Lorraine which Germany took from France 44 years ago. But when this city became the greater danger spot he hurried back and has been on the job ever since.

Daily he goes among what is left of his fellow citizens seeing to their needs. He does not encourage them, they need no encouragement. Men and women go about their affairs just as if the country enjoyed the fairest of peace and bombardments, there is an average of one every three days, cause no more alarm than a passing shower. It is true the bombardments are more fatal but when a citizen is carried off by the steel visitation no more terror is manifested than had he died a natural death.

Old women ruddy and hale sit in their doorways, embroidering. One I saw was completing a layette for a rich baby expected at Havre. At any minute the shelling might begin but the old lady in her white lace bonnet manipulated her fine cambric needle with nerveless precision, rapidly converting the blue design into the daintiest of forget-me-nots.

The military commandant of the place, a highly educated reserve officer with his lieutenant, a young university man, read aloud to each other when they have the time from Vergil, in Latin.

The churches have been left intact. The hospital formerly at the edge of town is a wreck. The cemetery is badly holed and many monuments have been reduced to dust.

Most of the older inhabitants remain in their homes or what is left of their homes but the children have gone. One day a line of Paris automobiles came and got them and carried them off to Nancy and around about.
